Today is the Feast of All Saints a day when we remember all who have been good and faithful in this life, but will never be officially made a saint. It is as you know a holyday of obligation.

Tomorrow (Monday) is the Feast of All Souls when we remember all who have died. While not a holyday many people like to go to Mass on this day to remember family and friends who have gone before us, for this reason there will be Mass in both churches on Monday.

This Weekend :

Day by Day booklets are available. Apologies they should have been out last weekend. Also the Catholic Pictorial for November is available in both Churches.

November :

Pious List Envelopes for the month of November in which parishioners can put the names of deceased family and friends and any donation you wish to give are available. If you wish you can put your deceased names in the envelope you can return your list anytime during the month of November. I will celebrate Mass for the intentions of the pious list during the month.

Also I will be celebrating Mass NEXT SATURDAY 7th November at 10 am in St. Bartholomew's followed by the blessing of graves and burial plots in our churchyard. I hope this is acceptable.

His Grace the Archbishop extends an invitation to all in the Archdiocese to attend Mass for deceased clergy of the Archdiocese of Liverpool in Our Cathedral on Saturday 14th November at 12 Noon.
